COMMITTEE IN HUNT FOR FURTHER POOLS IN INVESTIGATION

Raskob Identified In Great Anaconda Copper Pool

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Revelation that prominent political and financial figures moved through the last acts of the great bull market of 1928-29 as operators of multi-million dollar pools has started the senate banking committee on a quiet hunt for more pools. Stock exchange specialists are definitely under committee scrutiny.

The committee was summoned to meet in executive session today to decide how to pursue its investigation, and specifically whether to send investigators to examine the books of the New York Stock Exchange and New York brokers.

The short selling and bear raid phase of the investigation has been swept aside temporarily by identification of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National committee, and others as members of an ill-fated $32,000,000 Anaconda Copper pool in 1929.

William F. Kenny, New York contractor, Fred Fisher of General Motors, and Percy A. Rockefeller were identified as members of the pool by the pool manager, Thomas E. Bragg, Bragg and his associate, Bernard E. Smith, named somewhat the same group as participants in the 1928 pool. Identifications were not in all cases conclusive, but Bragg swore J. P. Meehan was a member of the pool.

William A. Gray identified Meehan as the exchange specialist in radio and said pool operations by specialists were forbidden by exchange rules.

Smith denied under oath that Meehan was a party to the pool but under questioning explained "it is in his wife's name." He revealed further that on occasion he had used the name of Mrs. Smith because exchange rules forbade a broker to be a principal in market transactions. Smith finally was crowded by Gray into admission that the use of his wife's name was to evade the rules.

Pools in Anaconda, Radio, Lima Locomotive, Child's Restaurant, Alaska-Juneau Mining and Briggs Manufacturing already have been developed by testimony—largely from Rockefeller who was a party to most of them. Meehan is the only specialist identified so far as a pool participant through a relative or otherwise.

From Edward Knight, a former brokerage accountant, the committee has learned that pool operations are general and that they are believed often to include specialists on whose books are presumably secret orders to buy and sell stock—knowledge of which would be valuable to pool operators. Knight expressed the opinion that it would be impossible to manipulate a stock up without the aid of a specialist. He said he had encouraged many "blind" or dummy accounts in brokerage offices.

Senate opinion is that the inquiry already has demonstrated that the uniformed American investor who rushes into a bull market is an unqualified sucker. Senator Blaine, Repn., Wis., said it was a repetition of the circus shell game without the pea.

SURVIVOR HELD ON MASSACRE CHARGE

LAS CRUCES, N. M., April 25.—Melquides Espinosa, prominent Mexican-American stockman, was held today of a charge of murder in the connection with the massacre of his wife and five children three weeks ago.

District Attorney J. Benson Newell said, however, the charge was filed rather to prevent the stockman's release than on evidence in the case.

Espinosa has been held in jail for questioning since April 2. He has clung steadfastly to his story that three Mexicans conducted the massacre when he refused their demands for money.

CLEVELAND GRAND OPERA IS ASSURED

CLEVELAND, April 25.—Cleveland was assured of another season of Metropolitan grand opera today by Senator Robert J. Bulkley, president of the Northern Ohio Opera Association, who reported nearly 35,000 persons attended the Metropolitan's three-day engagement which closed Saturday night.

The festival concluded with "La Gioconda" which for the first time brought Rosa Ponselle and her sister, Carnella, together in the same performance.

CONGRESS EXTRAVAGANT

Free Barber Work, Free Table Water And Fancy Shaving Mugs For Economy

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Though ruthless economy is about to be decreed for the government departments, congress has not yet undertaken to set an example itself.

Not only are senators and congressmen keeping wives, daughters, sons, and other relatives on the payroll, as described by the United Press last week. They are also managing to continue, while attending their legislative duties, to live in the style to which they have been accustomed.

They have completely escaped the ravages of a depression which has even stripped millionaires of their yachts and brought such men as Charles Schwab and Percy Rockefeller to the point of hinting as publicly as possible that they may have to spend their declining days in the poorhouse.

In the senate barbershop, for instance, senators can still get free service, haircuts, shampoos, shaves and massages. A squad of barbers maintained on the senate payroll as "skilled laborers," attend to the senate payroll as "skilled laborers," attended to the tonorial requirements of the senators.

Every senator has a shaving mug—furnished at government expense of course. At the end of the old congress a year ago when a number of Democrats replaced Republican senators, the senate barber shop had to buy eighteen more mugs at $1.50 each.

They are splendid mugs, with the names of the senators in gold letters. A mistake was made and the name on one mug had to be changed, for which in due time a bill of seventy-five cents was turned in, certified, and paid out of the contingent fund of the senate.

The senate shop is complete to the last detail. Was not the disbursing officer of the senate billed for three blackhead removers at fifteen cents each not so long ago?

Washington city water is as pure as any in the country. It is used constantly in automobile batteries. But the senatorial stomach prefers more expensive bottled waters. So the government pays between $700 and $1,000 a month to supply the senators with fancy drinking water. For six months last year, the senate spent $637.50 on fifty-one cases of Apollinaris water alone, though it was in session only one month at that time.

Here is a typical month's order for bottled water: twenty cases White Rock, twenty-seven cases Mountain Valley water, ten cases Capon Spring water, ten cases Kakak water. Senatorial tastes vary and a senator is as particular about his water as a Frenchman would be about his wine.

Not only that, but if anyone is interested, he can find among the bills paid out by the senate disbursing officer one to Acme Plating and Manufacturing Co., for nickel plating five bottle openers for cloak rooms at fifty cents each, total $2.50. It would be lowering the senatorial standard of living to permit a senator to have his White Rock opened with an opener from which the nickel plating had worn off.

In 1930 the senate ushered in the Christmas season by ordering on December 16 from the Lake Chemical Co., two gas riot pistols at $50 each and two dozen gas riot pistol shells at $40 a dozen, presumably to be used on any groups of the unemployed who became too persistent in their appeals for help from congress.

NEWSBOY CAUGHT IN BANDIT'S FIRE

Donald Reynolds of Detroit is shown at the bedside of his eight-year-old brother, Billie, who is not expected to recover from three bullet wounds he received when he accidentally was caught in the fire of three fleeing bandits. Billie, a newsboy, was in a grocery store, with his parents, when two bandits dashed from the store and fired at the manager after staging a hold up. The latter was seriously wounded. The gunmen escaped.

FREE OPERATION

HOMER, Mich., April 25.—J. H. Leischman, Eaton Rapids farmer, had his tonsils removed without charge. He was repairing an automobile tire when it "blew out" with such force his pipe was forced down his throat. The pipe stem nipped off the tonsils.

FASCISM GAINS IN PRUSSIA ELECTION FOR DIET CONTROL

Lack Eight Votes Of Control; Braun Is Heavy Loser

BERLIN, April 25.—The growth of Fascism in Germany, checked recently by re-election of President Paul von Hindenburg over Adolf Hitler, carried Hitler and his militant supporters today close to an absolute control of the Prussian Diet.

Hitler's Nazis increased their strength from nine seats won in the 1928 election to 162 of a total of 418. With gains made by Fascist allies, right wing parties held 262 votes, or only eight short of an absolute majority. Communists, however, most bitter foes of the Nazis, held the balance of power.

The Nazis became the strongest single party in the Diet, while the social democratic party of Premier Otto Braun lost forty-four seats for a total of ninety-three. Unless Braun receives the fifty-seven Communist votes in the new Diet, his government will be ousted.

Other members of the government coalition, the Catholic center party and the constitutional party, won sixty-seven and two seats, respectively for a total of 162.

Hitler counted on the elections, especially in the important state of Prussia, to recoup his loss of prestige from his recent defeat in the presidential race and from the recent disbanding of his brown shirt army by the government. He placed faith in the political adage, "who rules Prussia, rules the Reich," and sought to gain control of the Prussian police force which recently raided his headquarters.

Preliminary official figures showed the following standing in the Prussian diet: National Socialists (Nazis) 162; Nationalists 31; Police party 7; Christian Socialists 26; Social Democrats 95; Centrists 67; Constitutional party 2; Hannover party 1; total of coalition parties 163.

Final returns in the Bavarian elections were: Catholics 45; Fascists 43; Socialists 26; Bavarian farmers, 9; Communists 8; Nationalists 3; Police party none. The Nazis gained 34 more seats than they won in 1928.

The Fascists came up from 43 to 51 seats in the Hamburg election.

AMERICAN MEMBER OF CHINESE AIR CORPS BURIED WITH HONORS

SHANGHAI, April 25.—Robert Short, young American member of the Chinese air corps who was shot down in battle with three Japanese planes over Soochow, was buried here with the most impressive funeral ever given a foreigner in China.

Short's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Short, came from Los Angeles for the service. The funeral route was lined with hundreds of thousands of Chinese. The cortege passed a strange mixture of Oriental and Occidental costumes and trapplings. Both Eastern and Western rites were observed.

LITTLE GIRL BURNED FATALLY AS CLOTHES CATCH FROM BONFIRE

Betty Davis, Aged 4, Dies At Hospital Here Saturday

COST $50,000

Betty Lorraine Davis, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Davis, 257 S. West St., died at McClellan Hospital Saturday evening at 5:15 o'clock, from serious burns received earlier in the afternoon when her clothing caught fire from a bonfire near her home.

The little girl with Billy Gifford, a neighbor child, was playing near the fire at West and Locust Sts., in the vicinity of her home. When her dress became ignited Billy spread the alarm and Mrs. Ella Cartwright, the little girl's grandmother, tried to extinguish the blazing clothing. In tearing the clothing from the little girl's body she received painful burns on both hands.

The child received first and second degree burns over her entire body with the exception of her feet and legs from the knees down. She was barefooted at the time of the accident. Coroner R. L. Haines, Jamestown, investigated the accident Sunday morning and returned a verdict of accidental death from burns.

The little girl would have celebrated her fifth birthday June 7. Besides her parents she is survived by a brother, Paul and two sisters, Garnet and Pauline.

Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

SIX KILLED BY DIRT CAVE-IN

Victims Trapped And Smothered

MARMET, W. Va., April 25.—Workmen today cleared a small mountain of loose earth which slid down upon them Saturday night at the scene of construction of a new government dam near here, crushing and suffocating six men.

Sand and clay which lined the banks of the Kanawha River toppled down in three landslides, covering the six victims who were not as quick as three score other dam workers. The first booming slide trapped two men. Four others were entombed by a second cove in while rescue operations were proceeding. A third slide was believed caused by a huge crowd which trampled around the scene where rescuers were working in the mud under floodlights.

The dead were James Collins, Lewis Thornton, Delbert Gordon, Harry Coleman, Albert Roush and Charles Ryan.

The rescue work was slow. Water and mud filled holes opened by a hundred shovels and shovels. Search for the bodies was not completed until twenty-four hours after the slides, which occurred late Saturday night.

PROTEST WAGE CUT

BLOOMVILLE, April 25.—Move to reduce the salary of Prof. Ralph Hathaway, superintendent of the Bloomsburg schools for eighteen years, was protested at a public meeting. Citizens charged that a cut to $2,000 amounted to dismissal.

CADDIES ON STRIKE

ATHENS, O., April 25.—Golf caddies at the Athens Country Club, many of them sons of striking coal miners, were on strike today in protest of reduced wages. The caddies picketed the golf course.

Short was made a colonel posthumously. Services were held at the Moore Memorial Church. Scores of motor cars were in the funeral procession which passed five miles west of Shanghai to the Mungjiao airfield where holes were made by Japanese bombs in air raids were covered to permit the passage of the procession.

Short was buried with highest military honors. T. V. Soong, one of the most prominent leaders of the national government, delivered an address, making his first public appearance since an attempt on his life last year.

Beautiful 19-year-old Senorita Juanita Lana, acclaimed the most popular girl of Guadalajara, Mexico, last year, kidnapped by bandits, has been returned to her parents after payment of a 100,000-peso ($50,000) ransom. Senorita Lana was held for three weeks in the bandit camp in the heart of the rugged Barrancas mountains. The bandits warned the parents unless the money was paid the girl would be sold into slavery.

REDUCE GUARDSMEN SERVING IN STRIKE DISTRICT OF STATE

Troops And Snipers Exchange Shots; Attack Sentry

CADIZ, O., April 25.—With conditions generally quiet in the eastern Ohio coal strike area, the force of Ohio National Guard troops on duty in the district today was reduced from 600 to 400.

Col. William L. Marlin of Cleveland, commander of the troops, said he had attempted, as far as possible, to keep more experienced men on duty and relieve the younger men, some of whom are still in school.

Except for an exchange of shots between troops and snipers at the Tasa mine, six miles east of here, the strike zone was generally quiet Sunday.

Capt. Joseph Parilla of Youngstown, commanding the 134th infantry, reported his soldiers swept the ground with machine gun fire after snipers had opened fire on them. No one was injured.

Governor George White, Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson and Col. Marlin decided the strike situation was sufficiently under control to permit reduction of the troops.

A sentry, private James Strong of Cleveland, was attacked by two men while on duty near Col. Marlin's hotel here.

Private Strong, a member of Company A, 21 years old, five feet tall and weighs 110 pounds. His assailants were larger than he and they ripped his bayonet from his belt but failed to get his gun, he reported.

Strong said he saw the two prowling around an army truck and when he challenged them they jumped over a fence and fled. He ran after them and the pair stopped and started struggling with him.

Clinging to his rifle, the diminutive private called for the corporal of the guard. His two assailants fled with his bayonet. They were not captured but the bayonet was found nearby. Strong was commended by Capt. Kenneth Kerr, his superior officer.

Col. Marlin said anonymous threats to blow up army trucks and the hotel where he is stopping had been received prior to this incident. Four men taken into custody as suspects were released when Strong failed to identify them.

MOONSVILLE, W. Va., April 25.—A 5,000 gallon water tank at the number 3 mine of the Valley Camp Coal Company, a subsidiary of the J. A. HOW THE SWEET PEA IS GROWN TO BEST ADVANTAGE

WHY INSULL FAILED

Although the collapse of Samuel Insull's vast utility holding company, Middle West Utilities, has stirred up a great deal of conjecture in financial circles, it was but an inevitable result of the trend of the times. Assets of Middle West Utilities were based for the most part on the securities it held; opposed to this, its operating expenses and other indebtedness were obligations that could only be met while the assets and earnings of the assets held up. One did not fluctuate with the other, hence when assets dropped and expenses remained approximately stationary, there was no way of preventing collapse of the holding concern.

Middle West held the securities of a great many substantial utility companies built up and controlled by the Insull interests. In normal times these utilities earned heavily and paid large dividends on the securities held by Middle West. As times became depressed and these returns began to dwindle, the assets behind Middle West suffered a proportionate shrinkage that eventually could mean only receivership and reorganization designed to protect the interests of those who own Middle West stocks.

A similar condition prevails with a great many individuals and smaller concerns. There are in this country men who three years ago were rated as millionaires on the basis of their stock holdings at a time when market levels were extremely high. As these levels dropped, the riches of these men likewise dropped. If a man owned $1,000,000 worth of stock in 1929 and owed perhaps $400,000, he was rich; if in 1932 he still owes the same indebtedness and has nothing more to secure it or pay it off than the same stock that was in 1929 worth $1,000,000, he is indeed in sorry straits and either a voluntary or involuntary bankrupt, unless he has other resources to which he could turn.

That is the situation with the Middle West Utilities. The companies which underlie it are solvent going concerns and no fears are felt for their futures. It happened that Middle West like many other companies and individuals, was more or less caught holding the bag when stock prices collapsed.—Ohio State Journal.

GRAPE INDUSTRY TO STAGE CAMPAIGN TO SELL LIGHT WINES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—California's $300,000,000 grape industry announced today that it would wage a campaign for the sale of light wines for use in homes, hotels and restaurants.

The announcement was made during a board of directors' meeting of the California Vineyardists Association and was contained in a report presented by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the association.

Conn declared that the industry would "fight back" against the government's recent reversal of its interpretation of the Volstead Act provision regarding home wine making.

Growers Outlawed
Conn charged that the government "has morally outlawed the grape growers after supporting them since 1920."

The report assailed prohibition and demanded wines as the only salvation of grape growers from impending ruin, and proposed a plan to change the eighteenth amendment and Volstead Act to permit naturally fermented beverages.

"The government itself financed the grape concentrate and wine grape business," Conn said. "The advice of the government has been followed in all plans. Because of this policy, growers invested $100,000,000 of new money in the grape industry."

Judge's Opinion
"Now the government on the single opinion of Federal Judge Otis of Missouri, suddenly has reversed its interpretation of Section 23, of the Volstead Act and blocked the grape concentrate outlet for the grape surplus. The industry has been betrayed by those who should have been its friends."

Judge Otis ruled that whatever is done, from the picking of grapes to the bottling of the wine, to bring the product to its finished state is a part of the manufacture and that whoever does any of the separate acts to produce the finished product is engaged in the manufacture.

The report revealed that approximately 30,000 to 40,000 car loads of grapes are sold yearly in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and Ohio, for home wine making. It declared that over 100,000,000 gallons of wine are made annually in the United States from which the government derives no tax revenue.

$500,000,000 Revenue
Conn declared that if the government legalized naturally fermented beverages for sale in homes, hotels and restaurants it would mean an additional governmental revenue of $500,000,000.

Prior to the grape industry's announcement today the association has been active in blocking any move by the wet element to get the association on record for prohibition modification or repeal.

Conn's report listed the Southern Pacific Railroad, Western Pacific, Union Pacific, Santa Fe Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Bank of America, California State Chamber of Commerce, Postal Telegraph and Cable Company and the Diamond Match Company, as association subscribers.

THE MARCH OF CULTIVATION

FORMER XENIAN ON SCIENTIFIC TRIP TO MT. M'KINLEY

The following is taken from the New York Times:

SEATTLE, April 16.—Seeking to measure cosmic rays on Mount McKinley, Allen Carpe, E. P. Beckwith and Theodore Koven, New York engineers and mountain climbers, sailed today for Alaska. There they will occupy the most northerly high mountain stations in a world-wide survey of the cosmic rays conducted by Dr. A. H. Compton of the University of Chicago, and the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

The party carries delicate scientific apparatus designed by Dr. Compton and is also equipped for motion picture photography and exploration in Alaska.

A primary object of the expedition is to determine whether the cosmic rays are influenced by the magnetic field of the earth. Should such an effect be found it would upset widely held conceptions of the nature of the rays. If as generally believed by scientists, they consist of radiant energy or photons, they will not be affected by the earth's field, but if composed of electrons they would be deflected into zones surrounding the magnetic poles and this would be shown by the measurements.

The party is proceeding to Fairbanks and will rely largely on air transport from there to Mount McKinley.

CONVICTION HERE REVERSED BY HIGH COURT'S DECISION

On grounds of insufficient evidence, the conviction of Clay Masters, Alpha, who was fined $600 and costs by Municipal Judge E. Dawson Smith for possessing liquor, was reversed by the Court of Appeals Saturday.

Arrest of Masters was the outgrowth of a raid conducted by three deputies of the sheriff's office the night of October 31 last, in which he was charged with ownership of four bottles of whiskey found in a trash pile in an alley in the rear of the garage at his home.

The conviction was obtained on circumstantial evidence of guilt.

The appellate court said it knew of no parallel case where any reviewing court has permitted a presumption of ownership of liquor to be indulged against a person where liquor was found on property which did not belong to him, merely because he had access to the other property or lived on it.

The whiskey in question was found in a trash pile in an alley which "could have been and probably was generally used," the appeals court ruled.

XENIAN THWARTS WOULD-BE THIEF

An attempt to steal his automobile, when it was parked in front of 876 Riverview Ave. in Dayton, last Friday night, was thwarted by Dr. Marshall M. Best, Xenia physician.

Hearing the motor of his car start, the physician came out of the house to investigate. At his appearance on the front porch, a man at the wheel of the doctor's machine, leaped out, entered another auto parked nearby and escaped. The physician's car had been driven into a tree and the front bumper was damaged. The license number of the car in which the would-be thief drove away was obtained, and police learned the plates had been issued at Piquet, O.

REPORT FORGED CHECKS APPEAR

All merchants and banks are warned that forged pay-roll checks of the State Highway Department are being put in circulation and are being picked up by the banks in the vicinity of Newark. These are on a printed blank similar to that used by the department but are on a cheap grade of paper and are slightly off color. Due to the relief work being done by the department a large number of extra part-time employees are cashing these checks in small amounts and merchants will undoubtedly suffer a loss unless they are cautious and have the payee properly identified.

2 Different Methods of Shopping WHICH DO YOU USE?

There are two methods of shopping. But which method you use makes a great deal of difference, since you always want satisfaction from the things you buy.

Some people shop in such a trustful fashion. They merely ask for a can of peaches, a tube of tooth-paste or a box of aspirin. Because they never specify what brands they want, they are always at the mercy of the clerk. No wonder people who buy this way are often so dissatisfied!

Other shoppers, who know by experience or the reputations of certain products which brands are dependable, ask for these brands specifically by name. And they insist on getting the products they ask for, even though some clerk may urge them to try something "just as good."

Isn't it better to buy this way? Isn't it wiser to ask for what you want, what you know is always good—refusing other products of which you know nothing?

Stores which try to sell you unknown products in place of those you ask for, usually do so for a selfish purpose. The dealer often reaps an extra profit, or the clerk a commission, by switching you to the unknown merchandise!

Many of the best stores everywhere forbid this practise. When you buy from them you are always sure of getting exactly what you ask for, with full value in the merchandise you want for every penny you spend.

But if you are offered something "just as good" as the thing you ask for, refuse it! Demand packaged products which you know by experience, by brand, or by the reputations of their makers. You will often see such products advertised in this newspaper.

Ask for what you want! Insist on getting it! Millions of women have found this simple rule the surest guide to shopping satisfaction.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

The electrically operated barrier device perfected by Steve Phillips, this city, nationally known starter of harness races, may not be seen on Ohio race tracks this season after all.

And then again, it may be used, which leaves us exactly where we started.

The uncertainty is due to the fact that a great many fairs are adopting retrenchment policies this year and cutting down expenses wherever possible.

Many fair boards would like to give Steve's new barrier a trial but may shy at the expense.

Steve, who has branched out as a chicken fancier on a small scale during the "off" season, has not given his invention a practical trial yet, but he is sure it will prove a great improvement over the barrier he fashioned last year, and which came into widespread use. He is still trying to get a basic patent on the device.

The Xenia starter is still experimenting on it in private at his home on N. West St.

Art Hyman is exhibiting a personal letter he received from Sidney Well, president of the Cincinnati ball club, in which Sid expresses a hope that the new Reds "will keep our sunny sides up" this season. Arthur replied to the letter.

The new revenue bill now before the senate contains a provision that admissions to all high school as well as college athletic contests are to be taxed 10 per cent.

Inasmuch as high school athletics are not maintained for profit, and since all funds derived therefrom are spent for equipment, supplies, athletic fields, intramural athletic and the like, Commissioner H. R. Townsend, of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, was authorized to telegraph the different congressmen, asking them to work and vote against that section of the bill. The bill passed the House, however.

If it carries the Senate, in many schools the tax will be absorbed by the schools themselves. As it is, high school athletics are barely self-sustaining these days.

Athletic accident insurance may soon be available. Commissioner Townsend has entered into negotiations with two casualty companies for the purpose of working out plans to compensate pupils injured in athletic games or practice. Both companies propose to extend the same coverage now being used in Wisconsin. While no definite proposal has been made as to the rate, it will practically be the same as that adopted by the Iowa State Association. The Ohio plan will be optional. No school need carry the insurance unless it desires.

MERCHANTS IDLE

Xenia Merchants, who apparently are able to play only on alternate Sundays again this season, were idle once more Sunday afternoon. Rainy weather forced cancellation of a scheduled contest at Washington Park with the Grismer Coals of Dayton. This marked the second time adverse weather has caused a postponement of a game scheduled by the Merchants.

CATCHES FOR BEARDED TEAM COMING

Pedro Lanuza, catcher of the Cuban House of David baseball club, which plays the Xenia Merchants here Saturday afternoon at Washington Park, comes from Santiago de Cuba, and was one of the unfortunate natives to lose his home in the vast earthquake which rocked that city recently. He was awakened at midnight to find himself covered with bricks, but luckily none of his family was seriously injured.

CADET TRACK TEAM THIRD IN TRIANGULAR MEET SATURDAY

O. S. and S. O. Home finished third in a triangular track and field meet with Greenville and Piqua High Schools, staged on the dirt oval at the Greenville fair grounds, Saturday afternoon.

Supreme in field events, and taking a total of ten first places, Greenville accumulated 97 points. Piqua, which took only one first place, was second with 50 points, followed by the cadet cinder stars, who scored 44.

The cadets took four first places in the fifteen events, winning the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, the 220-yard low hurdles and the half-mile relay. Summary of the meet: 100-yard dash—Rowe (Home), first; Long (Home), second; Rantz (Greenville), third; Cirelio (Piqua), fourth. Time—10:8.

CUBAN TEAM TO PLAY IN XENIA

House Of David Club Here Saturday

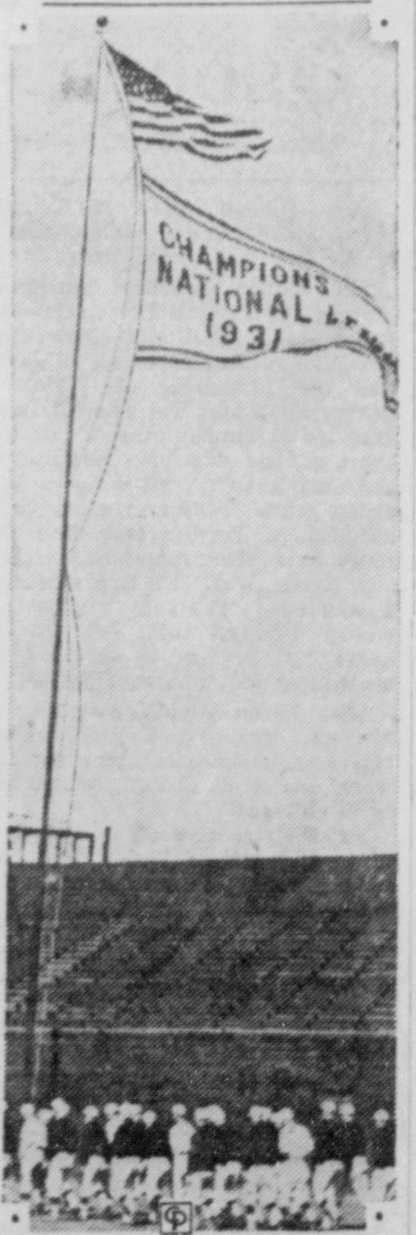

The Cuban House of David Baseball Club, of Cuba, featuring those bewhiskered diamond stars from the West Indies isle, has been booked by Business Manager George Ewing to appear against his Xenia Merchants at Washington Park, Saturday afternoon.

The bearded Cubans are members of the East-West League of colored baseball clubs, comprised of Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Washington.

Considered one of the foremost road teams on tour, the Cubans last season conquered many noted clubs, including the Homestead Grays, St. Louis Stars, Canadian Clowns, White House of Davids, Birmingham Barons, Decatur, of the 3-Eye League, and more than a hundred others.

Before the game here Saturday, the Cubans will put on an exhibition of "pepper" or "shadow baseball," much comedy and plenty of Spanish chatter being injected into their play.

Here's the Pennant

It's this flag, shown flying over Sportsman's Park, home ground of the St. Louis Cardinals, for which eight National League teams will battle all summer. Flag was raised on opening day by the Cards, 1931 champions.

TENNIS TEAM WILL MEET WITTENBERG

Cedarville College will again be represented by a tennis team this season.

Cedarville's racquet wielders will open their season with a match against Wittenberg College at Springfield Saturday afternoon. Four singles and two doubles matches will be played.

The college's tennis schedule calls for two matches each with Wittenberg, Antioch, University of Dayton and Wilmington this spring. Kilpatrick, Donaldson, White, Taylor, Spencer and Harriman are members of the Cedarville tennis team.

CEDARVILLE WILL PLAY HANOVER NINE

Idle last week-end when the Findlay College nine failed to put in its appearance for a double-header tentatively scheduled to be played on the Cedarville diamond Saturday afternoon, the Cedarville College baseball team is looking forward to a contest with Hanover College of Hanover, Ind., Saturday afternoon this week at Cedarville.

Coach Marvin Borst's diamond team lost its first two games this season, but looked good in both defeats administered by Miami University and Bluffton College.

COURT FREES MAN

FREMONT, O., April 25.—Clarence King, 52, farmer of Ballville Twp., was cleared of a charge of robbery when Judge Irving Carpenter, Norwalk, presiding in common pleas court, instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty. King charged the charge was a "frame-up" by Fred Comeskey, 37, and Roy Smith, 18, both of whom have already pleaded guilty.

CANDIDATE DIES

ATHENS, O., April 25.—W. M. Throckmorton, 69, of Albany, who died Sunday, was the third candidate for Athens County commissioner to die within three weeks. The others were W. S. Bower and J. W. Lax.

STATE STILL SEEKS DEATH SENTENCE

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 25.—Though the state supreme court has reversed the sentence of death against Russell McWilliams, who at 17 became the youngest person ever sentenced to the electric chair in Illinois, threat of capital punishment still hangs over the youth.

State's Attorney William D. Knight said today he would again demand the death penalty at a re-hearing of the guilty plea entered by the slim, blue-eyed stripling whose case drew the interest of Clarence Darrow, Jane Adams and other famed liberals.

McWilliams confessed he shot and killed a street car motorman while committing a gin-inspired holdup.

Harding Changes Style-Is Exotic For Awhile

David Selznick, always a bold mover, has decided that Ann Harding will turn exotic for her next picture. Shelving several other stories that were under consideration for the star, he has given orders to go ahead on "Bed of Roses," an original idea of Adela Rogers Hyland. Staff writers will make an immediate adaptation and the production will be under way in from thirty to sixty days.

Richard Arlen seems happy as a sailor

Richard Arlen has signed a new two-year contract with Paramount and has abandoned plans for a trip to the South Seas. In the future he'll have a say about his stories. The film, "Come On, Marines," has been abandoned and the studio hasn't decided what his next will be. Meanwhile he and Jobyna Ralston, his wife, will go to Europe, as planned, with the Norman McLeods.

After months of illness, Lila Lee is back in the thick of things in Hollywood, having recovered in a sanitarium in Arizona and on a quiet boat trip to Tahiti.

Universal gave her her first "came back" role, a lead in "Radio Patrol," police department drama. Miss Lee was a child favorite in the silent pictures and made the grade in talkies when ill health set her back.

While she was in Arizona she was divorced by James Kirkwood, who promptly married again.

Charles Bickford, outstanding in three successful Universal pictures: "Scandal for Sale," a newspaper movie; "East of Borneo" and "Hell's Heroes" has been signed to a five-year Universal contract. He will be used in three and possibly four productions a year. Last week Universal took over the contract of Paul Lukas, who will report May 1.

Universal's "Brown of Culver" company has left for Culver, Ind., where here will be a week's shooting on the campus. This cast includes Tom Brown, H. B. Warner, Slim Summerville, Andy Devine, Ben Alexander, Richard Cromwell, Eugene Pallette, Sidney Toler, Kit Guard, Willard Robertson, Norman Phillips, Jr., and Tyrone Power, Jr.

CLARENCE A. HERR, WELL KNOWN XENIA BARBER, IS CALLED

Clarence A. "Brownie" Herr, 59, widely-known Xenia barber, died at his home at 741 W. Main St., Sunday morning at 8:20 o'clock following a long illness from heart disease and other complications.

Mr. Herr's health had been failing for three years and his condition became serious last December 26, since which time he had been confined to his home.

Born in Salem, O., December 16, 1872, "Brownie" Herr had lived in Xenia thirty-seven years and through his long association with downtown barber shops and his inimitable fund of humor, he was known throughout Greene County.

His most recent employment was with the Mel S. Johnson Barber Shop, S. Detroit St., with which he had been connected for seventeen years, but he had previously been employed at the former Wood and Mullen Shop and at the C. H. Coates Shop and at other downtown shops and had at one time been in business for himself.

For a time he was a partner with Frank Hustmyer in the operation of a barber shop and billiard hall on E. Main St., and had also been a partner with Mel Johnson and with Roy Sutton in similar enterprises.

Before his fatal illness he was popularly known for his sunny disposition and his ready wit and barber patrons repeat many amusing stories that were original with him. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America Lodge and had become affiliated with St. Brigid Catholic Church.

Mr. Herr is survived by his widow, who was Miss Alice Cogan before their marriage April 10, 1905 and by six children. They are Mrs. Herbert Shipley and Mrs. D. W. Shain, San Francisco, children by a former marriage; George and Joseph Herr, Xenia and Mrs. Thomas Davis and Miss Agnes Herr at home.

Funeral services will be held at St. Brigid Church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery. Friends may call at the home Monday evening or any time Tuesday.

INFANT HURLEY

Hurley, near Lumperton; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Viola Haines, Jamestown and his great grandmother, Mrs. Melissa Ary, Dayton.

Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and burial will be made in New Burlington Cemetery.

CHARLES GRAF
Charles Graf, 87, Civil War veteran, died at the home of his son, Charles Graf Jr., in Bellbrook Saturday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock. He formerly resided in Dayton.

During the Civil War Mr. Graf was a member of Company B, O. V. I. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Christina Graf, a daughter, Mrs. Florence Kilmer; four sons, Charles Jr., Louis, Harry and Robert Graf; three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Frank Riesinger Funeral Home, Dayton, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery, Dayton.

MOTHER DROWNS THREE CHILDREN

After tying the hands of her three children, Mrs. Etta Butts of Grand Rapids, Mich., led them to a well and drowned them. Then she jumped in herself. Neighbors rescued the mother whom they found clinging to the edge of the cistern, but she was near death. The children, Ross, 7; Betty Jane, 4, and Max, 9, above were dead when recovered. Mrs. Butts feared she would die from the effects of an operation, and leave the three children, she revealed in a note to her husband, Carl Butts.

Free Employment Bureau Lists Persons Wanting To Do House Cleaning Work

THE telephone number of the free employment bureau, E. Market St., is 336-R. That's the number you should call to get help this week for your personal cooperation in the city-wide "clean-up and paint-up" campaign.

Mrs. H. R. Wirthlin, bureau manager, has employment listed for house-cleaners, gardeners, yard cleaners, rug beaters, painters and white-washers.

She has two couples listed for housecleaning work, the women to do the lighter inside work and the men to handle rugs, mattresses and heavy furniture. They work in couples.

Mrs. Wirthlin also has applications at the bureau offering employment to country girls and is anxious to get in touch with country girls seeking work in town. Middle-aged and elderly women are on the bureau records as applicants for light housework.

All kinds of job-seekers— young and old, men and women, white or colored, from common laborers to skilled mechanics or "white-collar" workers, are listed among the 700 applicants on the books of the free employment bureau.

These applicants, many of them in straitened conditions, are glad for the opportunity for any kind of work, permanent or temporary or whether just for an hour or so. It puts idle hands to work, is balm to the spirit of those suffering the agonies of no employment and helps feed hungry mouths.

Mrs. Wirthlin believes the bureau offers a real service to Xenians during "clean-up and paint-up" week and the housecleaning season, when many housewives want temporary help for cleaning tasks.

She urges citizens to remember the telephone number—336-R. The bureau has quarters in the Red Cross rooms but has its own telephone. The number is 336-R.

TAXI RECOVERED BY ARREST OF SUSPECT

Driving a taxicab identified as having been stolen in Xenia late Friday night, a man who gave his name as Trevor Evans, was arrested over the week-end by police at St. Clairsville, O.

Both the stolen auto and the suspected thief were to be returned to this city Monday, the man to face prosecution.

The car, owned by Roy Hook, R. R. No. 2 and driven by Jay Crawford, was taken from a parking space reserved for taxicabs on the east side of N. Detroit St., opposite the Interurban Restaurant.

Identification of ownership of the machine resulted after the driver's arrest, following his alleged attempt to cash a bogus check in St. Clairsville.
